Commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of the Treaty of Amity and Cooperation in Southeast Asia

The General Assembly,

Recalling its resolution 47/53 B of 9 December 1992 on the Treaty of Amity and Cooperation in Southeast Asia,

Recalling also the purposes and principles of the United Nations and its responsibility for the maintenance of international peace and security in accordance with its Charter,

Recalling further the purposes and principles of the Treaty of Amity and Cooperation in Southeast Asia¹ and the Charter of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN Charter),²

Recalling the Ten Principles adopted by the Asian-African Conference held in Bandung on 25 April 1955, the Declaration of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations signed in Bangkok on 8 August 1967, the Treaty of Amity and Cooperation in Southeast Asia, signed in Bali on 24 February 1976, and the ASEAN Charter, which entered into force on 15 December 2008,

Noting that the Treaty of Amity and Cooperation in Southeast Asia entered into force on 21 June 1976 and has been amended by its first, second and third protocols,

Recognizing the commitment to strengthen mutual trust and confidence and promote dialogue and cooperation in inter-State relations, in accordance with the fundamental principles of the Treaty of Amity and Cooperation in Southeast Asia,

* Any changes to the list of sponsors will be reflected in the official record of the meeting.

namely, mutual respect for the independence, sovereignty, equality, territorial integrity and national identity of all nations, the right of every State to lead its national existence free from external interference, subversion or coercion, non-interference in the internal affairs of one another, settlement of differences or disputes by peaceful means, renunciation of the threat or use of force, and effective cooperation among themselves,

Aware that the Treaty includes provisions for the pacific settlement of disputes that are consistent with the Charter of the United Nations,

Recognizing that the Treaty provides a strong foundation for regional confidence-building and for regional cooperation,

Reaffirming the importance of the Treaty of Amity and Cooperation in Southeast Asia as the key instrument in governing inter-State relations in the region and as a foundation for maintaining regional peace and stability,

Recognizing the continuing importance and relevance of the purpose and principles of the Treaty of Amity and Cooperation in Southeast Asia in sustaining peace and stability in South-East Asia over the past five decades, consistent with the key principles and shared values enshrined in the Charter of the United Nations, the ASEAN Charter, the Treaty on the Southeast Asia Nuclear-Weapon-Free Zone (SEANWFZ Treaty/Bangkok Treaty)³ and other relevant ASEAN frameworks,

Noting that, since its adoption in 1976, there are now 62 High Contracting Parties to the Treaty of Amity and Cooperation in Southeast Asia, including States from regions beyond South-East Asia and regional organizations whose members are sovereign States, demonstrating its growing significance as a framework for peaceful relations, mutual respect and cooperation,

Welcoming the commemorative activities to mark the fiftieth anniversary of the Treaty of Amity and Cooperation in Southeast Asia hosted by the Philippines in July 2026, including a conference of High Contracting Parties and related events,

1. Endorses the purpose and principles of the Treaty of Amity and Cooperation in Southeast Asia and its provisions for the pacific settlement of regional disputes in order to achieve peace, amity and friendship and to promote regional and international cooperation consistent with the purposes and principles of the Charter of the United Nations;

2. Promotes understanding and appreciation of the purpose and principles of the Treaty of Amity and Cooperation in Southeast Asia;

3. Encourages the High Contracting Parties to leverage the Treaty of Amity and Cooperation in Southeast Asia as an avenue to promote dialogue and active cooperation;

4. Encourages all High Contracting Parties to the Treaty of Amity and Cooperation to reaffirm their commitment to the purpose and principles of the Treaty of Amity and Cooperation, including maintaining peace and stability in the region, and to fulfil their obligations under the Treaty;

5. Welcomes the growing interest of countries in acceding to the Treaty of Amity and Cooperation in Southeast Asia, on the basis of respect for and in conformity with the purpose and principles of the Treaty, and encourages more countries to become High Contracting Parties to the Treaty of Amity and Cooperation in Southeast Asia;

³ Ibid., vol. 1981, No. 33873.

6. Encourages Member States, particularly those that are High Contracting Parties to the Treaty, to participate in commemorative activities to mark the fiftieth anniversary of the Treaty of Amity and Cooperation in Southeast Asia;

7. Welcomes the commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of the Treaty of Amity and Cooperation in Southeast Asia, and recognizes its enduring contributions to peace, stability and cooperation in South-East Asia.
